Forecast For West Midlands
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 0400 on Friday 23 Jul 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Still hot, but cooler than recently. Plenty of hazy sunshine.

Today:
A cloudy start for some, but quickly becoming another sunny and largely dry day. Feeling slightly cooler than recently for most, but still very warm or hot in the hazy sunshine. Maximum temperature 28 deg C (82 deg F).

Tonight:
Plenty of clear spells in the evening but becoming increasingly cloudy overnight from the east. A band of heavy rain, thundery at times, reaching southern parts by dawn. Minimum temperature 13 deg C (55 deg F).

Saturday:
The band of heavy, thundery rain continues slowly and erratically northwards through the day. Drier in the evening with sunny spells, but also the risk of thunderstorms in the south. Maximum temperature 22 deg C (72 deg F).

Outlook for Sunday to Tuesday:
Sunny spells and scattered showers throughout, with the risk of thunder each day. Temperatures around average, but feeling cooler under the downpours.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.